Excess vs. Primary: What is the Difference?

Most of the plans are written with Accident Medical as Excess. The intent of coverage is to reimburse the insureds for any out-of-pocket expenses incurred as a result of a claim. Carriers who write the Excess coverage assume that all participants and students have major medical (Primary) coverage through their parents' plans.

In the event of an accident to the participant or student during a sponsored and supervised activity of the policyholder, a claim will be submitted to the Primary medical insurance. If there are any out-of-pocket expenses (i.e., deductible, coinsurance), a claim will need to be submitted to the Excess medical carrier, at which time the claim will be adjudicated and expenses will be reimbursed.

Alive Risk is comprised of four main programs: Amusement, Entertainment, Special Events and Sports & Leisure. For more information visit aliverisk.com.
